Acknowledgement of Receipt of Information Regarding “Danielle’s Law”

I have received the following information pertaining to Danielle’s Law:

In accordance with Danielle’s Law, 911 is to be called in life threatening emergencies. As defined in the law, “Life threatening emergency means a situation in which a prudent person could reasonably believe that immediate intervention is necessary to protect the life of a person receiving services, or to protect the lives of other persons at the facility or agency from an immediate threat or actual occurrence of a potentially fatal injury, impairment to bodily functions or dysfunction of a bodily organ or part.”

Failure to call 911 in a life threatening emergency includes monetary fines: $5,000 for the first offense, $10,000 for the second offense, and $25,000 for the third and each subsequent offense. Additionally, a health care professional, licensed or alternately authorized to provide services, may be subject to revocation of that professional license or other authorization to practice as a health care professional.

I have received training on Danielle’s Law including a Power Point Presentation on Danielle’s Law, a copy of Danielle’s Biography, a Fact Sheet on Life Threatening Emergencies, and a copy of Chapter 191, the actual Law.

I understand that it is my responsibility to call 911 if a person served by the Division of Developmental Disabilities is experiencing a life threatening emergency, as defined in Danielle’s Law.” I understand it is the responsibility of the emergency medical professionals to assess the severity of the emergency. My responsibility is to make the call to 911, provide information regarding the condition of the person, and direct emergency workers to the scene of the emergency. It is also my responsibility to provide immediate care until the emergency medical professionals arrive and take over.

KOMNINO'S LAW ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Acknowledgement of Receipt of Information Regarding “Komnino’s Law”

I have received the following information pertaining to Komnino’s Law:

Komnino’s Law (P.L. 2017 Chapter 238), provides protections for individuals with developmental disabilities through accountability and transparency.

Protections have been made as follows:

1. Random and frequent DHS Site visits – Unannounced visits and evaluations from DHS designated employees will take place multiple times per year. Staff must allow properly identified individuals into the program and provide requested information as needed for the visit/evaluation.
2. Reporting Injury Timeline – Every staff member must report to their manager, any injury to service recipients including those as a result of abuse, neglect or exploitation, as soon as it is safe to do so and immediately if the situation allows. Management will relay needed information to DDD, guardians, and HIPAA approved individuals within the 2-hour timeframe for reporting.
3. Drug Testing - Any person applying for employment as a direct care staff member at a program, facility, or living arrangement licensed or funded by the department (DHS), shall consent to and undergo drug testing for controlled dangerous substances as a condition of such employment.
 - a. Testing positive for unlawful use of any dangerous controlled substance or refusing to submit to drug testing will prevent consideration of employment.
 - b. Employees will be selected randomly throughout the year for drug testing. Testing positive for unlawful use of any dangerous controlled substance or refusing to submit to drug testing will result in employment termination.
4. Meetings with and sharing Contact information - In order to provide an opportunity for parents and guardians to share experiences about the individuals in accordance with Komnino’s Law, the agency will request contact information from each parent or guardian of an individual with a developmental disability. The agency will advise the parent or guardian that, if the parent or guardian agrees, the agency will exchange contact information with other parents and guardians of individuals with developmental disabilities.

I acknowledge that I have received training on Komnino’s Law, how it affects my workplace and what my responsibilities are in these situations.
